Okay folks, this is it!!! Considered by many to be the holy grail of Game and Watch collecting, a boxed Mickey Mouse Panorama Screen game is, without a doubt, one of the most difficult games to add to one's Game & Watch collection. In addition to being one of the most difficult games to add to one's collection, it is also, one of the most expensive games! The Panorama Screen series of games have a rather unique display system whereby light passing through the flip-top white filter on the outside of the game, helps to illuminate the LED sprites on the inside of the game which are then viewed by a periscope-like angled mirror. The set-up is rather ingenious, and definitely way ahead of its time when this game was released back in 1984!

Considering the rarity of this game, the condition of the box is excellent! There is some wear around the edges, and some creasing on the front and ends of the box. I've added 6 pictures of the box from different angles, so, please see pics for more details. All 6 flaps are in place, so, there are no missing flaps or pieces. The condition of the game is also excellent. There is hardly any wear on the game, and looks as though it has been used very little, if at all. The display is nice and bright with crisp and clear images and no missing sprites. This game also comes with the polystyrene foam tray, which is in very good condition. All buttons work as they should and the sound is perfect. Serial number and battery cover are in place and there is no corrosion on the battery terminals.

Flat rate shipping for this game will be $20 to anywhere in the world.

Payment is due within three days after the auction ends.

Good luck, and happy bidding!
